LO NECESARIO

La gracia es necesaria para la salvación, e igualmente el libre albedrío; pero la gracia da la salvación, y el libre albedrío la recibe.

—San Bernardo

NECESSARY

Grace is necessary to salvation, free will is equally so; but grace in order to give salvation, free will in order to receive it.

—St. Bernard

Pope Francis:

Be missionaries of God's love

Pope Francis has put a video on his Instagram account (@franciscus). It went up on Divine Mercy Sunday. It was a short clip taken from his video-message to the Cuban people ahead of his visit in September 2015.

"I want to be among you as a missionary of the mercy and tenderness of God." – Pope Francis said – "But allow me to encourage you, too, to be missionaries of this infinite love of God. May no one be without the witness of our faith, of our love. May everyone know that God always forgives, that God is always at our side, that God loves us."

The Instagram account of Pope Francis was launched on 19 March, 2016, and currently has over 2 million followers. The account reached 1 million followers faster than any other account in history.

Desejo estar entre vós como missionário da misericórdia, da ternura de Deus, mas permiti que vos possa encorajar a ser também vós missionários deste amor infinito de Deus. Que a ninguém falte o testemunho da nossa fé, do nosso amor. Que todos saibam que Deus perdoa sempre, que Deus está sempre ao nosso lado, que Deus nos ama. Desidero essere tra di voi come missionario della misericordia, della tenerezza di Dio. Ma permettetemi anche di incoraggiarvi ad essere voi stessi testimoni di questo amore infinito di Dio. Che non manchi a nessuno la testimonianza della nostra fede, del nostro amore; che tutti sappiano che Dio perdona sempre, che Dio è sempre accanto a noi, che Dio ci ama. Je désire être parmi vous comme missionnaire de la miséricorde, de la tendresse de Dieu, mais permettez-moi de vous encourager à ce que vous soyez également des missionnaires de cet amour infini de Dieu. Que ne manque à personne le témoignage de notre foi, de notre amour. Que tous sachent que Dieu pardonne toujours, que Dieu est toujours à nos côtés, que Dieu nous aime. Ich möchte unter euch weilen als Missionar der Barmherzigkeit, der Zärtlichkeit Gottes. Aber lasst mich euch auch dazu ermutigen, selbst Zeugen dieser unendlichen Liebe Gottes zu sein. Möge es niemandem an diesem Zeugnis unseres Glaubens, unserer Liebe, fehlen; mögen alle wissen, dass Gott immer verzeiht, dass Gott uns immer zur Seite steht, dass Gott uns liebt!

The Power of Prayer and Ritual inside our Helplessness

In the movie based upon Jane Austen's classic novel, Sense and Sensibility, there's a very poignant scene where one of her young heroines, suffering from acute pneumonia, is lying in bed hovering between life and death. A young man, very much in love with her, is pacing back and forth, highly agitated, frustrated by his helplessness to do anything of use, and literally jumping out of his skin. Unable to contain his agitation any longer, he goes to the girl's mother and asks what he might do to be helpful. She replies that there's nothing he can do, the situation is beyond them. Unable to live with that response she says to her: "Give me some task to do, or I shall go mad!"

We've all had the feeling at times when in the face of a dire situation we need to do something, but there's nothing we can do, no magic wand we can wave to make things better.

But there is something we can do.

I recall an event in my own life several years ago: I was teaching summer school in Belgium when, late one evening, just as I was getting ready for bed, I received an email that a two friends of mine, a man and a woman recently engaged, had been involved that day in a fatal car accident. He was killed instantly and she was in serious condition in hospital. I was living by myself in a university dorm, thousands of miles from where this all happened, and thousands of miles from anyone with whom I could share this sorrow. Alone, agitated, panicked, and desperately needing to do something but being absolutely helpless to do anything, I was literally driven to my knees. Not being able to do anything else, I picked up the prayer-book that contains the Office of the Church and prayed, by myself, the Vespers prayer for the dead. When I'd finished, my sorrow hadn't gone away, my friend was still dead, but my panic had subsided, as had my desperate need to do something (when there was nothing I could do).

My prayer that night gave me some sense that the young man who'd died that day was alright, safe somewhere in a place beyond us, and it also relieved me of the agitation and panicked pressure of needing to do something in the face of agitated helplessness. I'd done the only thing I could do, the thing that's been done in the face of helplessness and death since the beginning of time; I'd given myself over to prayer and to the rituals of the community and the faith of the community.

It's these, prayer and ritual, which we have at our disposal at those times when, like the man in Sense and Sensibility, we need to do something or we will go mad. That's not only true for heavy, sorrowful times when loved ones are sick or dying or killed in accidents and we need to do something but there's nothing we can do. We also need ritual to help us celebrate happy times properly. What should we do when our own children are getting married? Among other things, we need to celebrate the ritual of marriage because no wedding planner in the world can do for us what the ritual, especially the church-ritual, of marriage can do. Weddings, just like funerals, are a prime example of where we need ritual to do for us what we cannot do for ourselves.

Sadly, today, we are a culture that for the most part is ritually tone-deaf. We don't understand ritual and therefore mostly don't know what to do when we need to be doing something but we don't know what to do. That's a fault, a painful poverty, in our understanding.

The Trappist monks who were martyred in Algeria in 1996 were first visited by the Islamic extremists who would later kidnap and kill them, on Christmas Eve, just as they were preparing to celebrate Christmas mass. After some initial threats, their eventual murderers left. The monks were badly shaken. They huddled together as a group for a time to digest what had just happened. Then, not knowing what else to do in the face of this threat and their fear, they sang the Christmas mass. In the words of their Abbott: "It's what we had to do. It's all we could do! It was the right thing." He shared too, as did a number of the other monks (in their diaries) that they found this, celebrating the ritual of mass in the face of their fear and panic, something that calmed their fear and brought some steadiness and regularity back into their lives.

There's a lesson to be learned here, one that can bring steadiness and calm into our lives at those times when we desperately need to do something, but there's nothing to do.

Ritual: It's what we have to do. It's all we can do! It's the right thing.
