10. REGISTRATION PROVIDES ACCESS TO ALL THREE DAYS OF THE CONFERENCE

The 2015 ministry conference will include 39 sessions over 5 periods on Thursday afternoon and evening. This extra day is included in the registration rate, so attendees can enjoy the entire conference or pick the days that are the most convenient for them, especially if they are parish volunteers who work during the day.

9. CHOOSE FROM ELEVEN TRACKS OFFERED THROUGHOUT THE CONFERENCE

The conference will feature eleven tracks with topics relevant to catechetical formation, ministry of deacons, social justice issues, family life, youth ministry and more.

8. TWO NEW TRACKS WILL BE OFFERED

PASTORAL CARE - This track will offer useful sessions for those involved in Pastoral Care Ministry.

JUSTICE AND SOCIAL MINISTRY - This track will offer formation in Catholic Social Teaching as well as practical suggestions of how to implement or expand outreach ministries to the community.

7. EXPANDED SCHEDULE ON THURSDAY WITH AN EARLIER START

Our expanded schedule allows for the offering of session tracks in Catholic Management & Leadership, Diaconal Ministry, Liturgy, Sacraments & Music Ministry and the use of Technology.

6. A NEW VENUE WITH A BIGGER EXHIBIT HALL - OVER 112,000 SQUARE FEET OF SPACE

The move to the Kay Bailey Hutchison Convention Center Dallas allows space for even more Catholic exhibitors. For one week-end every year, Catholic publishing companies, bookstores, and service organizations from around the country come together in DFW at the UDMC Exhibit Hall. Take this opportunity to discover new, educational and faith-based resources for your parish and family, or to do some early Christmas shopping.

5. A UNIQUE AND POWERFUL OPPORTUNITY TO JOIN IN PRAYER AND FELLOWSHIP WITH CATHOLICS FROM AROUND THE DIOCESE OF DALLAS AND BEYOND

Join the Most Reverend Kevin J. Farrell, Bishop of Dallas, as well as other priests, deacons and 5,500 plus lay faithful at the Conference Eucharist on Friday morning.

4. OUR 100+ NATIONALLY AND LOCALLY RECOGNIZED SPEAKERS

UDMC strives to combine practical workshops by local ministry professionals and teachers with powerful, relevant sessions by national experts on Catholic education and ministry. This format creates a comprehensive opportunity to gain insight about your faith as well as practical skills you can apply to your ministry tomorrow.

3. A LARGER VENUE WITH MORE SESSION ROOMS – UP TO 19 SESSIONS OFFERED AT ONCE

With 14 periods offering over 200 sessions during the 3 days, the UDMC offers sessions for everyone, from ministry professionals, priests, deacons, catechists, parish volunteers to Catholics in the pew.

2. THE VALUE FOR THE MONEY - ATTEND OVER 17 HOURS OF SESSIONS FOR ONLY $75*!

UDMC offers more value for your money than most other educational and ministry conferences in the U.S. If you attend a session every period, you will gain more than 17 hours of education over 3 days for less than $80.

Times may change, but people rarely do. I have in mind the custom of immigrant bashing. Several thousand years ago the Israelites were told, “you shall not oppress or afflict a resident alien, for you were once aliens residing in the land of Egypt.” This passage is part of the Covenant Code, one of the most ancient collections of law in the Hebrew Scriptures.

What this tells us is that fear and suspicion of “the others” and subsequent attempts to subjugate or exclude them are nothing new. We Catholics might well be reminded that we “we’re once aliens residing in the land” — not of Egypt but of America. The English penal laws applied in the colonies. Catholics could not hold office, had to pay double taxes and could not worship publicly. Campaigns to mark Catholics as subversive were waged by the Know Nothings and the Ku Klux Klan, who maintained that Catholicism was antipathetic to American democracy.

Religion, however, was not the only trigger of immigrant bashing. Nativism, based on protecting American values and traditions from being “mongrelized” by immigrants who were considered inferior mentally and culturally, also was prevalent. Thus draconian anti-immigration laws were enacted against the Chinese. Irish, German, Italian and Eastern European immigrants were vilified as sub-human, ne’er-do-wells and drunkards incapable of productive citizenship. They were considered threats to the well-being of the nation. Among the outspoken nativists were Mark Train, Walt Whitman and Samuel F. B. Morse.

Of course, we are an immigrant nation and those whose parents and grandparents were reviled by Nativists are now our legislators, judges, scientists, academics ... and politicians. The ghost of Nativism again prowls our land. The vilifiers and the vilified are different, but the script is the same.

Times may change, but people rarely do.

By Bishop Kevin J. Farrell

Los tiempos pueden cambiar pero las personas rara vez lo hacen. Tengo en la mente la costumbre de atacar inmigrantes. Hace varios miles de años les fue dicho a los israelitas, “No maltratarás al extranjero ni lo oprimirás, porque ustedes fueron extranjeros en Egipto” (Ex 22, 20). Este pasaje es parte del Código de la Alianza, una de las colecciones más antiguas de la ley en las Escrituras Hebreas.

Lo que esto nos dice es que el miedo y la sospecha de “los otros” y los posteriores intentos por subyugarlos o excluirlos no son nada nuevo. A nosotros los Católicos también nos podría ser recordado que “alguna vez fuimos extranjeros en la tierra,” no de Egipto, sino de América. Las leyes penales inglesas eran aplicadas en las colonias. Los Católicos no podrían desempeñar cargos, tuvieron que pagar dobles impuestos y no podían realizar actos de culto público. Los movimientos para señalar a Católicos como subversivos fueron provocados por los Know Nothings y el Ku Klux Klan, que argumentaron que el Catolicismo era antagonista a la democracia americana.

Sin embargo, la religión no era el único detonador en los ataques a los inmigrantes. El nativismo, basado en la protección de los valores y tradiciones americanos de una “mestización” por parte de los inmigrantes, quienes eran considerados mental y culturalmente inferiores también prevalecía. Por lo que se promulgaron leyes draconianas anti-migratorias contra chinos, irlandeses, alemanes, italianos y europeos orientales. Estos inmigrantes fueron denigrados como sub-humanos; buenos para nada y borrachos. Fueron considerados una amenaza para el bienestar de la nación. Entre los nativistas abiertamente declarados estaban Mark Twain, Walt Whitman y Samuel F. B. Morse.

Por supuesto que somos una nación de inmigrantes, y aquellos cuyos padres y abuelos fueron aborrecidos por los nativistas son ahora nuestros legisladores, jueces, científicos, académicos... y políticos. El fantasma del nativismo vuelve a merodear por nuestra tierra. Los denigradores y los denigrados son diferentes pero el guion es el mismo.

Los tiempos pueden cambiar, pero las personas rara vez lo hacen.
